SELECTING PEONIES

Blooming time is the ideal time to choose plants. Our unique method of showing cut flowers in our display room has the enthusiastic approval of our many visitors. A display planting is being developed gradually for those who would like to see the grown habits of the plants; we have a group of colored photographs to aid in choosing varieties at planting time (September through November).

Visitors are always welcome of course. We are easily found:

Turn West at the Lynnwood light (on Highway 99 between Seattle and Everett) and drive 2.3 miles; turn right and drive one mile.

"Special Collections" of plants have proved to be very popular; we also get many requests for "a few nice peony plants".

To make the "special" collection fit your taste and to guide us in filling requests for "a few nice peony plants", please use the check-list below for ordering plants this way.

All to bloom at about the same time.

Blooming time to be spread as much as possible.

VISIT US DURING BLOOMING TIME

In general the hybrids are at their best the latter part of May and the lactiflora varieties about the twentieth of June in the Puget Sound country. The maximum range for us is May 5 to July 15. The very late varieties are not sure openers here.

Terms

Check or money order should accompany your order. If you live in the State of Washington, three and one-third percent of the cost of the order should be added for sales tax.

On orders under five dollars, include a twenty - five cent mailing charge.

NOTE: If you want us to send you a "special" collection, multiply the checked cost per plant by the checked number of plants. Add the tax if you live in Washington.

Standard 3 to 5 eye divisions will be mailed Sept. - Nov. Plant the peonies according to enclosed directions as soon as received if possible. If planting must be delayed, the roots can be held in good condition by keeping the packing material moist.

Few blooms should be expected the first year, but by the third year most varieties are well established.
